Oil Sticks Demonstration
"Oil paint sticks", or "pigment sticks" or just plain "paint sticks" are a fun and liberating way to apply color and texture to a canvas. The sticks I use are roughly cigar-size, and come in almost 100 colors, including transparent pigments. They are easily mastered and very forgiving, and lots of fun. I will demonstrate, and then permit attendees to "get the feel" of using them. I will try to give hints about do's and don'ts, and where to buy them and how to store them.

1 p.m. Map Location #6
Georgina Melone
Studio Big Rock
1239 East Road
Tiverton RI

Playing with Plastic
Join us at Studio Big Rock as we demonstrate how to fuse and crochet your discarded plastic bags into a useful crafting material. Did you know that you can easily upcycle these ubiquitous bags to make tote bags, kites, drums and even collage! Bring your discarded plastic bags filled your imagination and come play with us!

THROUGHOUT THE TOUR WEEKEND:

Kris Donovan, Nancy Shand (table set up outside with lots of materials for kids and adults to play with), Jennifer Rashleigh (see above), Karen Raus, and the Artists at the Westport Art Group demonstrating their respective skills.
